ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am profoundly grateful to Engineers India Limited (EIL) for the opportunity to work on a project of such high strategic relevance. I thank Mr. Sanjeev Singhal, SGM (R&D;), for his vision and mentorship. I am deeply thankful to Mr. Vijay Thakare, Manager (R&D;), for his constant encouragement and technical supervision. I also acknowledge Mr. Saurabh Agarwal for his coordination. My thanks go to the EngSUI startup founders for their cooperation. Finally, I thank [Faculty Guide Name] at IIM Nagpur for academic guidance.

ABSTRACT

EIL's EngSUI initiative supports deep-tech energy startups but lacks a structured internal framework for evaluating commercial partnership and equity investment potential beyond external TC reports. This project develops the "Commercialisation Readiness Scorecard" (CRS), a 120-point framework evaluating Technology, IP, Team, Market, Adoption, Business Model, and Strategic Fit. It features a Dynamic Weight Calibration System (DWCS) to adjust priorities by TRL stage. Deployed on a React platform and calibrated against 8 startups, the framework produces conservative valuations (0.59x market), providing EIL a robust, auditable strategic evaluation capability.

Headquartered in New Delhi with technical operations in Gurugram, EIL has a global footprint in 30+ countries and over 2500 professionals.

1.2 Industry Position

EIL is the backbone of India's hydrocarbon industry, serving ONGC, IOCL, BPCL, HPCL, and GAIL. It is currently leading the transition to Net Zero through sustainable engineering.

1.3 Services

Segments include Consultancy & Engineering and Turnkey Projects (EPC), covering the entire project lifecycle.

CHAPTER 2: POLICY AND STRATEGIC INITIATIVES

2.1 Innovation Policy

EIL focuses on indigenous technology development and IP generation, investing heavily in R&D; and academic collaborations.

2.2 EngSUI Initiative

EngSUI is EIL's flagship startup programme launched in 2017 to commercialise deep-tech innovations in energy.

2.3 Funding Tracks

CHAPTER 4: WORK EXPERIENCE

4.1 Onboarding

Orientation at EIL Gurugram focused on EngSUI portfolio and PSU decision constraints.

4.2 Key Concepts

TRL Scale, Deep-tech Commercialisation, and PSU Procurement Norms.

CHAPTER 5: PROJECT DESCRIPTION AND WORK

5.1 Problem

No repeatable internal framework to evaluate startup commercialisation potential.

5.2 Objectives

Design CRS, build platform, calibrate results.

5.4 CRS Framework

Module	Pts	Rationale
Technology	25	40% hardware fail at scale
IP Strength	15	Non-patented = commodity
Team	20	Predicts outcome
Market	20	Top failure cause
Adoption	15	Barriers beyond science
Business	15	Survival signal
EIL Fit	10	Strategic mandate

5.6 Calibration Results

Mean valuation ratio $\approx 0.59x$ market. Tool correctly rejected non-fit cases.

CHAPTER 6: EXPERIENCE AND CHALLENGES

Learnings: Strategic vs financial investing, TRL assessment. Challenges: Confidentiality of TC reports, data scarcity.

CHAPTER 7: MBA COURSES UTILISED

Finance	DCF, WACC
Strategy	Five Forces, VRIO
Marketing	TAM/SAM, interviews

CHAPTER 8: CONCLUSION

Framework successfully bridges the gap between science and commerce for EIL.
